

Fly-in Minho 2026

Survival Guide

Minho, Portugal | 22-28/06

Welcome Message

As the third board of AEROUM & PAS Minho, we officially welcome you to Fly-In Minho.

Being the local group of Guimarães, we cannot wait to host you in our marvellous city and surroundings, and hold our first international event in the progress towards becoming an officially integrated member of EUROAVIA!

About Us

AEROUM was founded in 2023 as a community of Aerospace Engineering students in UMinho. In 2024, we obtained PAS status with EUROAVIA, becoming known as AEROUM & PAS Minho.

Since then, we have been aiming for the stars, hoping to become fully integrated members of EUROAVIA with Fly-In Minho!

Important Locations

University of Minho - Azurém Campus

The University of Minho is an active public university in the north of Portugal. The Azurém campus, in Guimarães, is known for its focus on Engineering, Technology, Design and Architecture, having large buildings, well-equipped labs, workshops and open study areas that support practical learning. The environment is energetic, with many projects, teamwork and close contact with local companies.

Getting to Guimarães

Getting to Guimarães

Porto to Guimarães

- Best option: Bus (FlixBus, Rede Expressos, Citi Express).
- Travel time: Usually 45–55 minutes, with some slower services up to 1h10.
- Price range: €2.50–€9, with most tickets between €3–€7.
- Frequency: Departures roughly every hour, from early morning to late evening.
- Notes: Buses leave from Porto Campanhã and arrive at Guimarães Bus Terminal. Booking early helps secure cheaper fares.

Getting to Guimarães

Lisbon to Guimarães

- Best option: Direct bus (Rede Expressos, FlixBus, Citi Express).
- Travel time: Typically 4h05–5h30, depending on operator and stops.
- Price range: €5–€30, with most fares around €11–€16.
- Frequency: Multiple daily departures from Sete Rios and Gare do Oriente.
- Notes: Early booking is strongly recommended, especially on weekends and holidays.

Getting to Guimarães

Vigo to Guimarães

- Best option: FlixBus (often with a transfer in Braga).
- Travel time: Usually 2h10–3h05, depending on the connection.

(In theory, we are neighbours; in practice, it's enough time to decide the future of the nation or master the secret recipe of a Torta de Guimarães.)

- Price range: €11–€35, with typical fares around €14–€18.
- Frequency: Around two services per day (morning and late afternoon).
- Notes: Always confirm the exact boarding point in Vigo (Bus Station or Avenida de Madrid).

Pro-tip: If you transfer in Braga, it's the perfect opportunity to verify if the air in Guimarães is, in fact, fresher than in the neighbouring city :)

The Cradle War

The Cradle War

The Conflict: Portugal's identity is anchored in a rivalry between two titans.

Braga's Flex: They claim they are the true birthplace. Why? Because King Afonso Henriques went to Braga to beg the Archbishop for soldiers to win his battles. They argue: "The plan was made in Braga; the fighting just happened to be near Guimarães".

VS

Guimarães' Flex: They have the UNESCO World Heritage status, the castle, the royal palace, and the mic-drop motto written in stone: "Aqui nasceu Portugal". To them, Braga's "mother story" is just a side quest.

The Ultimate Survival Rule: If you want to stay out of trouble and keep the piece, just don't pick a side, and compliment the weather!
